I agree that online classes are not as good as regular classes. In regular classes, students have the chance to communicate face-to-face with their teachers, and with other students. By doing this, they can improve their communication skills and easily discuss their opinions and ideas. Furthermore, students do not have to worry about the technology needed for online classes. The equipment needed for online classes may not be available to all students. Online classes also require new skills, and so the focus of lessons will no longer be on the subject, but on the technology. (95 words)

反対意見の解答例

I disagree that online classes are not as good as regular classes. People everywhere are using technology more and more. For students, having classes online will teach them not only subject content, but also various skills. Students will have to learn how to solve technology problems, and will learn to use technology in a more natural way. Online classes can also be convenient for students who live far away from their school, or have mental or physical issues that may prevent them from going to school. Technology can be a good aid to learning. (94 words)
